Care for Creation
An Environmental Report for Seminaries

In the space below and on the back, please report on activities at your seminary that address issues of the environment. These may include any of the following: worship practices, courses taught, curricular requirements, mission statement, an environmental concerns committee, conferences held, faculty publications, earth-friendly building and grounds practices, eco-design of buildings, advocacy in local, national, or global issues, or some other activity. If accompanying materials are available, such as worship resources, course syllabi, or faculty publication information, we would be grateful to receive these also.

The Web of Creation (www.webofcreation.org) is an environmental website providing eco-justice, interfaith resources for faith-based communities. The Web of Creation is a non-profit organization supported by the Eco-Justice Working Group of the National Council of Churches, the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, the Presbyterian Church USA, and Theological Education to Meet the Environmental Challenge. The website office is located at the Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago and is staffed by students from several Chicago seminaries.
